

The files to run the website SciTube! are present in the folder: scitube

The home page is home.html

Other pages:

video.html: Page that plays the video and allows the user to take notes tags.html: Page that displays the tags that the user has used to tag the videos for revisiting later topics.html: Page that displays the different topics the user can search for about.html: Page that gives a brief explanation of what the website is about